
PRINTING WITH PACKAGING

With Marian Haf

Tuesday 17th November, 10am-4pm

Under Marian's guidance, we will transform household packaging into playful prints using the magic of printmaking. We will learn how to ink the plate - both intaglio and relief - and how to combine the two; which paper to choose and how to prepare it, plate registration and good working practice in achieving a clean result; and printing with a press.
This course is suitable for beginners and more seasoned printmakers looking to develop their craft. It's also super for educators as it translates well into a classroom.

In her garden studio in her native Ceredigion, printmaker Marian Haf creates beautiful, intricate and intriguing collographs inspired by her own childhood, her Welsh heritage and the Ceredigion coast. A fine art painting graduate and self-taught printmaker, her subject matter is varied but often has a common narrative, eg, nostalgia, nature, and the traditions of Wales.

You can see some of Marian's beautiful designs, as well as some created by her students, on her Instagram page: www.instagram.com/marianhaf

Tea and Coffee will be provided but please bring your own lunch.
